Dear Friends,

On behalf of the communities we serve, thank you for your generous contribution to Trees, Water & People to support the memorial project for Lucas Wolf in the Montecillos Reserve, Honduras. Over the past 21 years, we have developed a strong community of supporters that understand the importance of building bridges to unite communities in very different parts of the world. Together, we are taking part in a ground-up approach to natural resource management and human development, which empowers communities to protect, conserve, and manage their most precious resources.

Your support helps provide people in Central America with the tools, learning opportunities, and appropriate technology needed to improve their quality of life and local environment. An investment in Trees, Water & People is an investment in a network of high-quality, community-oriented people and programs across the Americas.

Thank you again for your gift. Please let us know how we can make your Trees, Water & People experience the best it can be—only by working together can we build a better, more sustainable future.

With great appreciation,

Sebastian Africano
